Reddit “Ask Me Anything”

Chief curator Peter Jakab, left, and senior curator Tom Crouch fielded questions at the Reddit “Ask Me Anything” session on December 11, 2013.

The two curators were made available in advance of the 110th anniversary of the first successful flight of the 1903 Wright Flyer to answer questions about the flight, the Flyer, and the Wright brothers. Over 100 questions and comments were submitted over the course of the day.

Reddit is a social news and entertainment website. “Ask Me Anything” is one of the most popular features on the site.
